Professional learning - Enterprising Creative Contributors

Careers Wales in collaboration with Regional Consortia, are pleased to offer a series of free professional learning opportunities on Enterprising Creative Contributors for 3-16 teaching practitioners across Wales during the autumn and spring terms.

The professional learning will be delivered in person and will consist of 2 x half day workshops, facilitated by Professor Emeritus Andy Penaluna of the University of Wales Trinity Saint David.

This two-part professional learning offer, will support teaching practitioners with:

- Aligning their approaches to 'Skills Integral to the Four Purposes'.
- Addressing the requirements of the 'Four Purposes', with a special focus on Enterprising Creative Contributors.
- Considering alternative pedagogical approaches that have been seen to have had impact internationally when learning 'for' enterprise, as opposed to learning 'about' enterprise.

Full programme overview can be found here: Enterprising Creative Contributors
